“It’s amazing to think that someone who doesn’t know you has the generosity to help you—and they might not even realize how much.”

For Emily Jimenez, receiving a scholarship at East Stroudsburg University has been an eye-opening experience.

Jimenez, a junior from Byram, N.J., is a recipient of The Students First Tuition Scholarship for out-of-state students.

“I wasn’t aware about how the philanthropy at ESU worked until I received a scholarship myself and could benefit firsthand. It’s amazing to think that someone who doesn’t know you has the generosity to help you—and they might not even realize how much,” said Jimenez, a digital media technology major. “I’ve gotten to see how involved and invested the alumni are. They really care about the students and the community.”

As the student liaison to the ESU Foundation Board of Directors and president of the board for the university’s Warrior Elite, a student ambassadors program, Jimenez is involved in both student life and community relations. Through Warrior Elite, Jimenez connects students with alumni at alumni events.

“At the events, I’ve gotten to see what sweet, great people the alumni are,” Jimenez said. “Their financial support helps me with my tuition so that I can focus on my courses without having to worry about cost. The scholarship also motivates me to do my best to maintain a 3.0 GPA, and to get my GPA as high as possible.”

Jimenez is motivated to achieve—even overachieve—to create a good foundation for a successful future. She wants to land a good job to one day help give back to her family: mother Nancy O’Meara, stepfather, Sean O’Meara, and stepbrother, Hunter.

When she was younger, Jimenez watched her mother, who was a single mom at the time, work tirelessly to provide for her.

“She did everything in her power to make sure I was happy, healthy, and had everything I needed,” Jimenez said. “I’m making sure that I work hard now so that one day I can make sure my Mom is taken care of and she can relax.”

While growing up in Byram, about 30 minutes from East Stroudsburg, Jimenez remembers how her mother would talk to her about the importance of education. This message helped foster the strong work-ethic that Jimenez has today.

Within her major, Jimenez is on the social and interactive media track, with a goal of working in social media strategy and media design. Once established in her career, Jimenez plans to give back to ESU.

“Investing in the future of the community and the school that gave you your foundation is a very important, honorable thing to do,” she said.

A Message from Kenneth Long

INTERIM PRESIDENT
EAST STROUDSBURG UNIVERSITY

Take a walk on East Stroudsburg University's campus today compared to one year ago and it is certainly an eye opener. Gone is the hustle and bustle and crowded sidewalks in between classes. The University Center where students gather, study and grab a bite to eat is quiet. Most classrooms are dark except for those where students must be onsite given the content of their coursework.

This is the result of our decision to provide primarily remote instruction in the midst of a pandemic but behind these optics, there is so much more taking place. Hundreds of classes are underway, students are learning, connecting with each other and faculty, and the resources they need to help complete their education remains intact thanks to your and many other's continued generosity.

It's my honor to serve as ESU's interim president and more so, it's a privilege to have a forum in the ESU Foundation's 2019-2020 Annual Report and Honor Roll of Donors to convey my thanks for all you do for ESU and our students. The partnership between the Foundation and University is critical to ensure academic and athletic programs are enhanced and improved and that student scholarships continue to thrive. That partnership extends to you, the most important part of the equation. Through your generosity and the Foundation's stewardship of your gifts, ESU can continue to strive for excellence in the education we provide to students.

In 2019-2020, your support resulted in $6,634,649 in gifts and pledges. It also assisted in funding ongoing campaigns that benefit our student-athletes, academic programs and students in critical need of financial assistance when the COVID-19 pandemic forced us to quickly adapt to all-online learning. The details of these campaigns can be found within this publication, along with other highlights and events that made 2019-2020 memorable for us all.

Also within these pages are the names of thousands of individuals, businesses and organizations who made a commitment to ESU and our students in 2019-2020. Given the extraordinary circumstances presented to the entire country in March 2020, our gratitude goes deeper. You faced your own challenges in life, health, and safety, and you selflessly gave more to ensure our students didn't face uncertainty alone.

While we will continue with the majority of instruction remote for spring 2021 to keep our campus and regional communities safe and healthy, hope remains that ESU will be flourishing with students and activities as the year progresses. I ask you to stay by our side and help us maintain a strong and constant Warrior spirit. Above all, thank you for your support and I wish you and loved ones safety and good health in the year to come.

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Robert Willever '75

With every year that passes in my role as chairman of the ESU Foundation Board of Directors, I am reminded when we prepare this report how fortunate the organization is to have such dedicated and loyal supporters. There are so many good non-profits, all doing remarkable work, that want and need your support, yet you continue to be there for ESU and its students.

On behalf of the ESU Foundation and the board, please accept our sincerest thanks for your generosity in 2019-2020. I have served the ESU Foundation since spring 2014 and during those years we have been graced with the support of people who care about education and the often challenging path a student must travel to obtain it. It doesn't come easily...or inexpensively.

Since its founding 34 years ago, the ESU Foundation has made it its mission to provide ESU and its students the resources needed to pursue their education and provide for enhanced academic and athletic programming. In just over three decades, fundraising has topped $67 million with more than $20 million of that secured in the last five years. I invite you to take a look at the graph on page 7 and see the steady growth the Foundation has made in that time. There certainly have been some dips and lows along the way, but with careful planning and wise investment strategies, we have been able to stay the course over the long haul.

It's wonderful when we are on campus and learn of and see improvements in our athletic facilities and within academic instruction and classrooms. These are important and much-needed aspects of the experience. What you often don't hear about is the immense amount of scholarship support provided through the ESU Foundation. In 2019-2020, the Foundation crossed the one-million dollar mark in providing scholarship support to students. That's a 167.3 percent increase from a decade ago and a true testimony of your commitment to ESU's students. Also within the scholarship program, donors created 11 new endowed and 26 new annual scholarships in 2019-2020, surpassing goals by 220 percent and 104 percent, respectively. You are helping us set new benchmarks and ultimately provide resources to students who will become the workforce of tomorrow.

The Foundation board welcomed several new and accomplished members, all who bring expertise and a talented skillset to the table. I'd like to welcome them aboard as well as thank those who have and continue to serve in 2020-2021. As a group, our commitment to honesty, transparency and upholding the Foundation mission is unwavering.

I would like to thank former ESU President Marcia G. Welsh, Ph.D., for her partnership and support during the past six years and wish her well in her retirement. We look forward to continuing that relationship with Interim President Ken Long and, when the time comes, a new president and visionary for ESU who helps lead the way in our future fundraising efforts.

As for 2020-2021, I cannot say it will come without challenges. Every home in America is impacted in so many ways from the COVID-19 pandemic and volatile environments. We want to think ahead five years and possibly farther without fear of the unknown but we also understand your health and safety remain paramount. We ask you to stay by our side along the way. ESU and its students are depending on it.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Richard D. Santoro

Dear Friends,

With great pleasure, I present the East Stroudsburg University Foundation's 2019-2020 Annual Report and Honor Roll of Donors. Your kindness resulted in yet another benchmark year for the Foundation and our effectiveness can only be attributed to your generosity. In total, the Foundation secured $6,634,649 in gifts and pledges, directly impacting the quality education and university experience our students deserve.

This is such welcome news given the last quarter of the year. We all experienced changes in our lifestyle as the COVID-19 pandemic tightened its grips on the country. Our family and work lives were altered dramatically and we had to quickly find ways to adapt to a changing world while still providing ESU students with the resources to pursue their education. Most importantly, this had to be done while keeping donors, students and staff out of harm's way. Like you, our homes became refuge while we worked together and discovered new and dynamic ways to engage, connect and steward alumni and friends of the university.

As a result of the pandemic and an immediate shift to online learning in March 2020, many ESU students found themselves without the financial resources to complete the spring semester. In a matter of days, students faced housing insecurity, transportation issues and needs for improved technology. You answered the call for help through the Student Emergency Response Fund, providing $66,717 in support and equipment and helping more than 161 students.

It is times such as this when we learn how selfless, understanding and committed our community is. Throughout 2019-2020, you also took extraordinary measures in bolstering our student scholarship program. The result was remarkable and the Foundation provided $1,017,436 in scholarship support, a 7.9 percent increase from the previous year. Take a look at page 12 where our Scholarship Report reflects a decade of steady growth in fundraising and the total in annual and endowed scholarship dollars made available to students.

As a result of your gifts, the Foundation has also been able to take strides in the following campaigns and projects:

The $2.5 million Soccer Stadium project launched with $79,500 in cash, written and verbal agreements in place by the end of 2019-2020. The facility will be built adjacent to Eiler-Martin Stadium.

The Locker Legacy Campaign has raised a combined $12,000 for ESU's field hockey, men's basketball and lacrosse programs with the fundraising efforts being continued into this year.

Also continuing into 2020-2021, the Wrestling Scholarship Campaign will build on the $174,875 already raised to ensure the men's and women's program can recruit and sustain its momentum for years to come.

ESU's future Esports Lab will benefit from the $188,181 committed thus far, allowing for eventual construction of the laboratory and equipment purchase needed for the game-based learning environment reflective of the STEM principles.

Throughout this report, you will find student stories that we hope convey the need for your support and the impact your generosity has had on their lives. You will also discover donors who inspire others by giving back to their alma mater and shine a bright light on the power of philanthropy.

As the Foundation looks back at our accomplishments of 2019-2020, we realize we could not have done it without you. In times of uncertainty and confusion, when health and well-being become the doctrine of our daily lives, you continue to make an effort to give back and for that we thank you.

I appreciate all of you and send you wishes for good health and prosperity in the year to come.

The East Stroudsburg University Foundation is honored you have entrusted us with your philanthropic support. Fiscal year 2019-2020 has been one of the greatest achievements in the Foundation's 34-year history, securing $6,634,649 in total gifts and pledges. This excellent progress has been made possible by the generosity of our alumni, parents, friends, faculty and staff.

The impact of your support reverberates across campus - in the classroom, the virtual lecture hall, the laboratory, in athletic programs and in every student's overall university experience. Our greatest leap was made in the more than $1 million in scholarship support provided to students. Even when the COVID-19 pandemic tightened its grip across the country, you answered the call to help our Warriors, providing $66,717 in gifts and equipment to the Student Emergency Relief Fund.

SCHOLARSHIP REPORT

A Record Year for Scholarships

Scholarship support is often what makes it possible for ESU students to stay on track in pursuing their higher education. The ESU Foundation has seen remarkable growth in its scholarship program over the past decade. Since 2010, scholarship funds disbursed to students went from $380,554 to $1,017,436 in 2019-2020. We couldn't have made these great strides without your help.

Specifically, 673 scholarship awards were provided to deserving students in 2019-2020. Generous donors also established 26 new annual and 11 endowed scholarships, far outpacing prior years. While the data is exciting, what's more compelling are the heartfelt thanks we hear from students who benefit from your support.

Affording college and also being a first gen college student has really been a rough ride, but I'm going to see it through. Thank you for your help, it won't go to waste and never will be forgotten.

I deeply appreciate your contribution to my future.

I promise to make you proud by continuing my hard work here at ESU.

I cannot explain how grateful I am for this opportunity. I am a nontraditional student. In fact, I am the first in my family to graduate high school. I am older than most, and I had to figure out everything on my own.

Thank you again for your generosity and support.

Without donors such as yourself, my academic achievements may have just been a dream.

The ESU Foundation receives hundreds of thank you letters from grateful students which we, in turn, send to you. These snippets are but a few of what student scholarship recipients have to say about YOUR remarkable generosity in 2019-2020.

This scholarship has helped take some of the financial burden off of my parents and gives me the ability to focus more on my studies.

Through this scholarship I have been able to purchase my text books and pay for my tuition. This helped me tremendously. Being a single mother, going back to school presented significant financial burdens.

Thank you for your generosity which has allowed me to further my education and to expand my ways of thinking. I am thoroughly enjoying my time here at ESU and cannot wait to continue learning.

This scholarship helped me stay in the student abroad program after my father lost his job weeks before I was due to hand in my final payments.

Thanks to you, I am one step closer to reaching my end goal with a peace of mind that finances will not be an issue.

Thank you is not enough. Every dollar really counts. It can be a difference between living and eating on campus, or even buying textbooks. I hope that one day I can pay it forward to others, too.

I am grateful for your gift. I hope one day I can grant the same opportunities to others as I grow in my career.

This scholarship was an amazing opportunity to experience my first semester of college dedicated to my studies.

Ever since I was younger, I knew I wanted to go to college, but wasn't sure how I was going to make the dream come true.

One of my greatest passions is to help others, and with this degree, I strongly believe that I will be able to make an impact, all with the help of this scholarship.

Every spring, the East Stroudsburg University Foundation hosts its Annual Scholarship Dinner, an evening of celebration and an opportunity to connect donors who create scholarships with the student recipients who benefit from their generosity.

The COVID-19 pandemic may have forced the cancellation of the 2020 event, but donors and students still made their connection through a web-based listing of scholarships, the donors who created them, and the student recipients. All year long, students also take the opportunity to write personalized thank-you notes forwarded to their donors by the Foundation.

You can still view the list of scholarships awarded in 2019-2020 and the Warriors who will Leave Their Mark on the world when they graduate from ESU at www.esufoundation.org/leaveyourmark. The Foundation looks forward to holding a virtual scholarship celebration in spring 2021. Until we see you again, our deepest gratitude to you for your continued support of the ESU Foundation's scholarship program.

Prince Hall Scholarship Fund grows with 29th Annual Golf Classic

East Stroudsburg University and the ESU Foundation celebrated its partnership with the Prince Hall School in Philadelphia, Pa., holding the 29th Annual Educational Scholarship Golf Classic on August 5, 2019, at Shawnee Inn and Golf Resort in Shawnee On Delaware, Pa.

The golf outing benefits the Prince Hall Endowed Scholarship which enables students who attend the Prince Hall School in Philadelphia, Pa., the opportunity to further their education at ESU. Since the partnership with the Prince Hall School and ESU began in 1988, 18 Prince Hall scholars have gone on to graduate because of this scholarship.

The event concluded with awards and remarks, featuring Wayne Bolt, committee chair, Kevin Hughes, committee member, and Nadiyah Jordan, ESU student and Prince Hall Scholar.

Brad Hyman, M.D., Ph.D., at the Troiani-Sweeney Endowed Fund Lecture Series.

Troiani-Sweeney Endowed Fund Lecture Series features Harvard professor

The Troiani-Sweeney Endowed Fund Lecture Series at ESU was held in the Niedbala Auditorium on Oct. 31, 2019, featuring keynote speaker Brad Hyman, M.D., Ph.D. Hyman is the John B. Penney, Jr. Professor of Neurology at Harvard Medical School and Massachusetts General Hospital. He directs the Alzheimer's disease research unit at the Massachusetts General Institute for Neurodegenerative Diseases (MIND).

In its sixth year in 2019, the Troiani-Sweeney Endowed Fund Lecture Series at ESU was developed by graduates Linda (Troiani)'83 and Sam Niedbala '82 to honor Linda's sister, Yvonne Troiani Sweeney '78. Yvonne is a 1978 graduate of ESU who dedicated her life to her nursing career that spanned 30 years until she was diagnosed with a form of early onset dementia called posterior cortical atrophy.

Football season gives donors, sponsors a time to connect with ESU

From warm, summer-like temperatures to a frigid arctic blast, the weather didn't deter football donors and sponsors from coming out to support Warriors Football during the 2019 season.

Hosted by former President Marcia G. Welsh, Ph.D., and the ESU Foundation, the President's Tent events are held prior to home football games and give donors and sponsors the opportunity to connect with ESU and the football program. Guests spend time prior to the game at the sideline tent at Gregory-Douds Field at Eiler-Martin Stadium before heading up to view the game in the Dr. Jake Piatt '61 President's Box. Each of the five games welcomes a different segment of donors and friends, including board members, the Council of Trustees, corporate and foundation partners, and reunion and legacy alumni. Parents of senior players are also invited to the last event of the season.

Silverback Distillery takes the stage for entrepreneur speaker series

Christine Riggelman, CEO and master distiller of Silverback Distillery, along with her daughters Lauren Riggelman, assistant distiller and general manager, and Abby Riggelman, general manager for Silverback's Poconos location and the media director for the company, were the featured speakers at the ESU President's Distinguished Entrepreneur Speaker Series on Nov. 19, 2019, in Beers Lecture Hall.

The Riggelman "Women Who Distill" shared their story on how they developed a women-owned internationally-recognized distillery with locations in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia and East Stroudsburg, Pa.

The President's Distinguished Entrepreneur Speaker Series was launched in April 2017 and continues to bring engaging speakers to campus. Support for the series is provided by The Dr. Gere B. Fulton '60 Lectureship Endowed Fund.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGNS

Soccer Stadium campaign launches in 2019-2020

A fundraising campaign to build a stand-alone soccer facility in the heart of campus launched with a 36-member committee spearheading the effort. At the end of fiscal year 2019-2020, $79,500* had been raised for the project.

The $2.5 million facility will be built adjacent to Eiler-Martin Stadium where the baseball field was once located. When complete, the facility will attract top talent to ESU, it will aid in admissions for student-athletes, and provide a home facility where alumni, family and fans can attend games and events. Its features will include a new NCAA regulation artificial turf soccer field, perimeter fencing, spectator seating, field lighting, a press box, scoreboard and sound system.

It was announced in April 2020 that ESU's Student Activity Association (SAA) Board approved a dollar-for-dollar matching gift up to $1,250,000. Through SAA's support, ESU's club and intramural sports will also have use of the field when the soccer programs are not using the facility.

Chairing the campaign committee is Jerry Sheska '68, ESU's men's soccer coach for 29 years (1982-2010) and women's coach for two (1992-1994). Sheska is the winningest PSAC coach with 424 wins to his name. Working with the ESU Foundation, the committee will continue to garner support from alumni and friends of the soccer program.

The Wrestling Scholarship Campaign provides student-athletes the resources they need to learn and compete.

WRESTLING SCHOLARSHIP CAMPAIGN GAINS MOMENTUM

A campaign for scholarships for the men's and women's wrestling programs gained significant traction in 2019-2020, with the ESU Foundation raising $174,875 by the end of June 2020. Women's wrestling was announced as ESU's 21st varsity sport in December 2018 as recruiting and the need for annual and endowed scholarship funds became paramount.

The Wrestling Scholarship Campaign will continue into 2020-2021. Annual scholarships, which will bear the name of the donor or person whom the donor wishes to honor, require a minimum gift of $1,000 per year for a minimum of four years. Endowed scholarships require a minimum gift of $25,000 which can be paid over a five-year period. The option to pledge a gift or to give to an existing wrestling scholarship is also available.

Student Emergency Response Fund brings assistance during COVID-19

East Stroudsburg University students were dramatically impacted by classes shifting to all-online in March 2020. The COVID-19 pandemic brought on unexpected expenses that would have interrupted remote studies and caused delays in student's education. Wanting to help, 184 donors stepped in, providing $66,717 to the Student Emergency Response Fund.

Students faced tremendous uncertainty in being able to complete the spring semester due to housing and transportation issues, limited technology and more, according to Rich Santoro, executive director of the ESU Foundation. "Many struggled without resources to transition to online classes as they relied on campus technology. Others lost jobs, had no income and the means to transition off campus. Through the generosity of many, these students were given the support they needed."

To hear from students on the life-changing impact student emergency funds had on their ability to complete the semester, visit <https://www.esufoundation.org/make-a-difference>.

Locker Legacy Campaign raises funds for scholarships

Alumni and friends of ESU's lacrosse, field hockey and men's basketball programs rallied for the Locker Legacy Campaign, raising money for scholarships while also showing their appreciation of the sport, sponsoring new lockers in Koehler Fieldhouse and Whitenight Field.

Donor's generosity will be recognized with a plaque bearing their name, sport, and years played, on a locker for 10 years. At the end of fiscal year 2019-2020, donors had generously given the following amounts:

Lacrosse	$4,000
Field Hockey	$5,000
Men's Basketball	$3,000

The Locker Legacy Campaign will continue in 2020-2021. A locker sponsorship of $500 is payable over three years.

The Locker Legacy Campaign continues in 2020-2021.

Esports Lab campaign focuses on equipment, construction needs

The ESU Foundation has raised $188,181 to purchase equipment and construct ESU's emerging electronic sports (Esports) program. The Esports lab will create an innovative game-based learning environment that develops new models of learning, specifically in emerging digital media technology fields where science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) principles can be shared.

When complete, the campaign will enable ESU to purchase state-of-the-art computers, software, gaming furniture and equipment for the lab space that will be located on the first floor of Rosenkrans East.

SPHERE

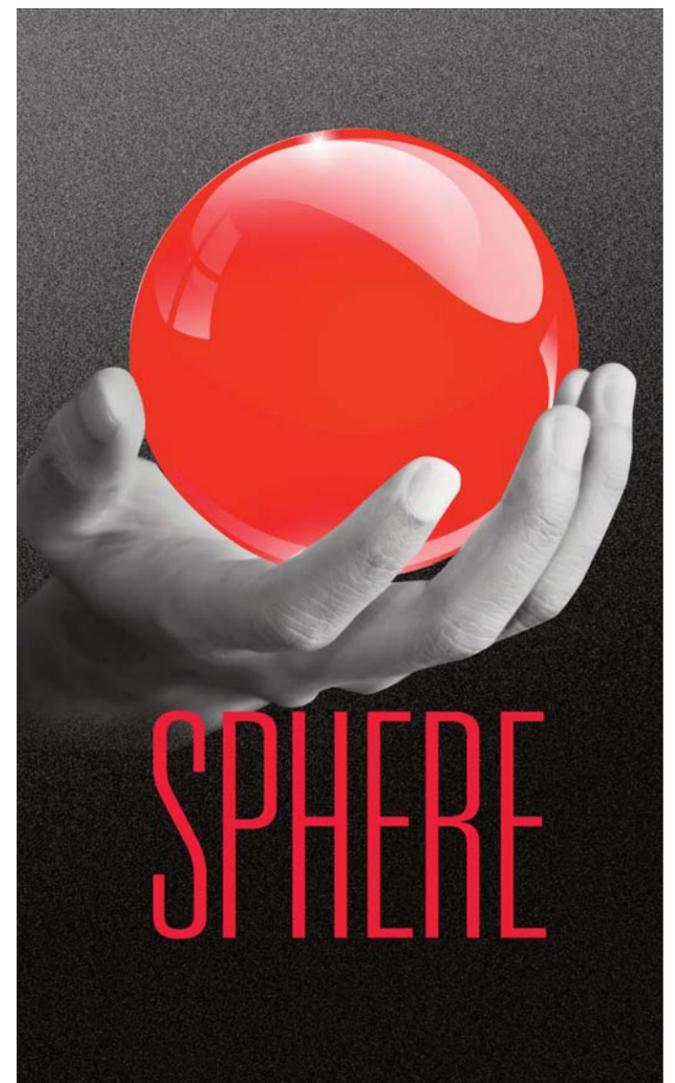

President's Circle donors, 1893 Society members celebrated for their generosity

The Fine and Performing Arts Building provided a stunning backdrop for the Annual President's Gala with former East Stroudsburg University President Marcia G. Welsh, Ph.D., and the ESU Foundation welcoming and thanking members of the President's Circle and the 1893 Society for their leadership support during the 2018-2019 year.

Themed Sphere, the gala was held on Sept. 13, 2019, and recognized individuals, businesses, and organizations who have provided gifts of support of $1,500 or more over the last fiscal year. Individuals who included the ESU Foundation in their estate plans or established an endowment also enjoyed the celebration.

Seeds of Hope

The spring season is customarily when members of The 1893 Society are welcomed back to campus for a special event but COVID-19 had other plans for the annual gathering. The scheduled theatre production and reception may have been cancelled, but the Foundation found a way to remind members how special they are with the mailing of flower seed cards in April 2020.

“My education is so important. I put in a lot of time and money, but I am working hard because if I fail, it’s because I didn’t work hard enough.”

ISAAC CAYO
Class of 2022

Junior Isaac Cayo was the recipient of Student Emergency Funds following the COVID-19 outbreak and subsequent transition to all-virtual coursework at ESU.

Isaac Cayo received emergency financial support from ESU at the perfect times last spring. With campus and businesses closed during the COVID-19 pandemic, Cayo wasn’t able to work at his part-time jobs to help his family pay rent on their home in Rhode Island.

“I applied for the aid and ESU Foundation sent the money directly to my family’s landlord. It really helped,” said Cayo, a 21-year-old junior exercise science major. Later in the spring, Cayo received more emergency support, which helped pay his car bill.

“I was trying to figure out how to make the payment. When I got the email from ESU Foundation that I was getting help, I was relieved,” said Cayo, who is on the wrestling team and aspires to be a strength and conditioning coach.

Growing up, Cayo’s family — his father, Leon, a Christian pastor and truck driver, and his mother Mona, a certified nursing aid — valued education, but were guided by their belief in God. “My parents taught the importance of working hard for yourself. They would say, ‘you’re not doing school for us, you’re doing it for you, and God will guide you,’” Cayo said.

The family is from New York, but moved to Providence, R.I., in 2016 after Cayo’s father felt a calling to start his own church. Money was tight, and it was difficult to find an affordable church space, but Leon persevered. Finally he found a space to rent and build his congregation, which is still active today.

Even though Cayo’s father always found a way to provide for his family, seeing him struggle through hard financial times compels Cayo to work hard for his education. He hopes that a college degree will give his future family a happy, comfortable life.

“I don’t want to struggle. It hurts when you know you can’t have something. It gives you pain that you never want to experience again,” said a tearful Cayo, sharing while in between virtual classes. “That’s why my education is so important. I put in a lot of time and money, but I am working hard because if I fail, it’s because I didn’t work hard enough.”

Cayo credits his dedicated professors for helping him stay on track when school challenges him.

“The professors care. They understand what you’re going through,” said Cayo. “Professor Chris Esposito, who taught Exercise Science Physiology 1 Lab, treated his students like colleagues. I could go to him and talk to him. I was struggling, and he continued to reach back out to check on me. He would put me in touch with people who had helped him. He was so relatable.”

Cayo’s life experiences have helped him gain perspective on giving.

“I know people who struggle more than me, so I can only imagine how they feel,” Cayo said. “I want people to feel cared for.”

Relationships forge the way to giving back

Charles '84 M '86 and Teresa Taylor

Dr. Charles "Chuck" Taylor '84 M '86, a computer science major, is inspired to give back to East Stroudsburg University to show appreciation to the school and academic department which are the foundations of his success.

The newly established Charles T. '84, M '86 and Teresa M. Taylor Endowed Scholarship is designed for a computer science major who aspires to work in the Department of Defense/intelligence community.

"My wife Teresa and I believe philanthropy comes from the heart. We enjoy giving to organizations which have enabled us to be where we are today," said Taylor, former founding president of Proteus Technologies, LLC, and former executive vice president of Polaris Alpha. Both companies specialized in building custom applications for the Department of Defense and intelligence community.

During his time at ESU, Taylor learned the importance of building strong relationships to be successful. One of his most pivotal relationships began his freshman year when he met computer science Professor, Dr. Richard Prince.

School didn't come easily to Taylor and he struggled with his first computer science classes. He remembers spending most evenings working on assignments in the computer room on the fourth floor of Stroud Hall.

For one particular programming assignment, Taylor broke down in tears in his third-floor Shawnee Hall dorm room.

He sought the help of Prince.

"I remember sitting in his office, and his phone was ringing. It was his wife, Dr. Debbie Prince (former mathematics professor at ESU), saying that dinner was ready. Dr. Prince said, 'I have a student here with me,' and he didn't go home. He was more concerned that I understood how to complete the assignment," Taylor said.

Taylor had Prince for eight more semesters over his years at ESU, which spanned undergraduate and graduate degrees. Throughout his academic career, Prince was the most challenging professor Taylor ever had, but also the one that pushed him to learn the most.

"I remember handing in 2,000 lines of source code for an assignment. Professor Prince took the time to read every single line and point out where I could improve. He was a brilliant, kind, good person. I truly wish more people would have had him as a professor before he passed away," said Taylor, who still exchanges Christmas cards with Prince's wife every year.

After completing his undergraduate degree, Taylor became one of the first two graduates of the university's Computer Science Master's program in 1986. He earned his Ph.D. in computer science from Lehigh University in 1990.

Taylor used the foundations that he learned through Dr. Prince and his time at ESU to become a reputable leader in his field.

In 1990, he went to work for GTE Government Systems, with the National Security Agency as his primary client. In 2001, he launched his own company, Proteus Technologies, LLC, with his wife Teresa, in Annapolis Junction, Md.

After growing Proteus to several hundred employees, Taylor merged his company with two others to form Polaris Alpha in 2016. Over the next two years, Polaris Alpha acquired three additional companies. In 2018, Polaris was sold to a large strategic government contractor and Taylor retired after 28 years in the industry. Taylor, originally from Trenton, N.J., resides in Annapolis, Md., with his wife of 23 years. His son Charles Taylor III ("Trey"), is a sophomore at the Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Daytona Beach, Fla., studying aerospace engineering. His son Zachary and daughter Vanessa are a senior and freshman in high school, respectively.

Taylor's sentiments toward ESU and its students are expressed best in his 2010 graduate commencement speaker address. He said, "I summoned the help of relationships many times along the way and ultimately accomplished a dream. Perhaps some of you can find your Dr. Prince in your lives, or become a Dr. Prince to someone else."

EAST STROUDSBURG UNIVERSITY OFFICE OF ALUMNI ENGAGEMENT

The East Stroudsburg University Office of Alumni Engagement connects with more than 50,000 alumni worldwide through a variety of in-person and virtual events and volunteer opportunities. The office works to build relationships with various academic, athletic and administrative areas to bring alumni back to campus. Affinity events in 2019-2020 included an annual Career Expo and Networking event co-hosted with the Office of Career Development, athletic reunions for men's and women's basketball and men's wrestling, and a physics reunion during Homecoming Weekend.

A new affinity group, G.O.L.D. (Graduates of the Last Decade), was established with a group of 12 volunteers steering the efforts for engagement ideas, and 14 highlights of young alumni were promoted through social media platforms and the alumni website. A volunteer focus group was also formed to address trends and interests of young alumni.

Homecoming Weekend 2019 drew close to 3,000 alumni and friends back to campus for reunions, events and the All-Alumni Tailgate.

EVENTS

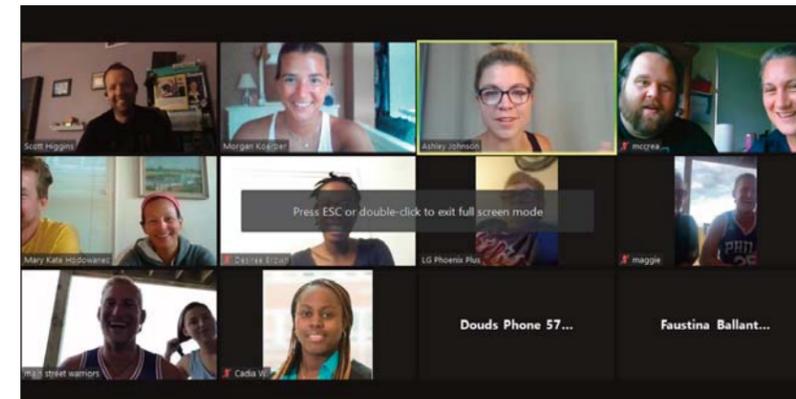

The East Stroudsburg University Office of Alumni Engagement hosted 40 events in 2019-2020, including Homecoming Weekend, held Oct. 18-20, 2019, with more than 3,000 attendees during the three days. The Class of 1969 celebrated their 50th Reunion during the weekend, and eight alumni were honored at the Annual Alumni Awards and 50th Reunion Banquet.

During ESU's Family Weekend, held Oct. 5, 2019, Legacy Families were honored at the Legacy Breakfast and Pinning Ceremony. Each family member received a special keepsake Legacy pin, celebrating their multi-generational ties to ESU.

March 2020 brought unexpected challenges with the onset of COVID-19 lockdowns. In-person events in the spring were cancelled, some replaced virtually. Each regional chapter hosted at least one in-person or virtual event, including virtual happy hours and trivia nights.

Beldina Opiyo-Omolo '02 M '04 accepts the Dr. George S. Thompson Award at the 2019 All Alumni Awards and 50th Anniversary Reunion Banquet held at Stroudsmoor Country Inn, Stroudsburg, Pa.

Zoom events and board meetings became the norm for the Office of Alumni Engagement in March 2020 with the onset of COVID-19.

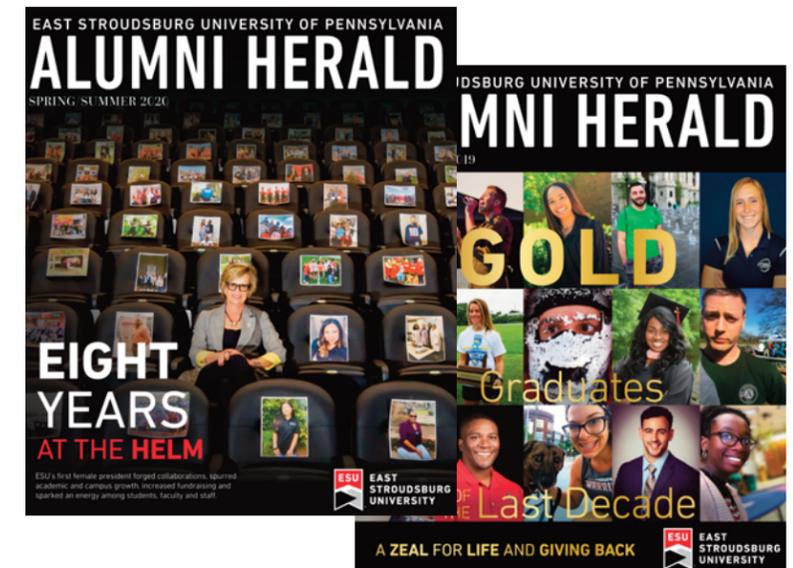

ALUMNI BOARD

The ESU Alumni Association Board of Directors appointed a new executive committee in 2019-2020: Dave Super '80, president, Christine Rohr Thompson '73, vice president, and Caitlin "Katie" Ord '07 M'08, secretary.

SOCIAL MEDIA/OUTREACH

Alumni Engagement social media platforms continues to flourish with an overall 22 percent increase among Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter followers. Social media campaigns in 2019-2020 included Where Alumni Live, Alumni Sweethearts, and Pets with Warrior Spirit.

Alumni were kept up to speed with regular e-newsletter blasts, and targeted e-news notifications about events and activities. The Alumni Herald, the official ESU magazine, was distributed twice during the year to more than 31,000 alumni and friends of ESU.

Paying it forward through service and philanthropy

One of Rory Yancheck's core values is to help others.

"I was raised to help others. I benefited from many generous acts from kind and thoughtful people in my life. I try to give back to individuals and institutions that helped me," said Yancheck, a 1984 graduate in political science. He is now the vice president and general manager of 3M Government Markets. "The way we can help future generations is to lend a helping hand by giving back."

To pay it forward, in 2017 Yancheck and his wife Diane established the Rory J. Yancheck '84 Endowed Scholarship and the Rory J. Yancheck '84 Annual Scholarship. Yancheck is also a member of the ESU Foundation Board of Directors.

After growing up in Carbondale, Yancheck selected East Stroudsburg University because it had good Reserve Officer Training Corps (R.O.T.C.) and Political Science programs. He joined the Pennsylvania Army National Guard Simultaneous Membership Program, which allowed him to enroll in college and the National Guard at the same time, leading to a commission in a United States Army Reserve.

"ESU holds a special place in my life. It provided me with a great academic education, but most of the learning took place outside the classroom," said Yancheck, who resides in Great Falls, Va.

Through his various activities — Sigma Pi and RHEC (Residents Hall Executive Council), orientation aid for incoming students, and intramural flag football and soccer — Yancheck learned how to get along with others, how to be a part of a team as a follower and a leader, how to listen, understand, and act.

"I was the beneficiary of encouragement that helped me to realize my potential," Yancheck said.

A few of those providing Yancheck encouragement were Valerie Hodge, then vice president for Student Affairs, who Yancheck remembers being fun, and having good character and a caring soul, Anthony Gaglione, a political science professor who opened his mind to thinking from all perspectives, and Harry Hartman, an economics professor, who made complex theories practical.

While an undergraduate student, Yancheck lived in Monroe Hall. After his sophomore year, he was commissioned a second lieutenant and served for two years in the local National Guard Armory in East Stroudsburg. Some of his most enjoyable classes were his physical education classes of archery, and canoeing. He also held two jobs, one at Peppe's Restaurant in East Stroudsburg, and another as a bellhop at the now defunct Penn Hills Resort, a honeymoon resort in Analomink.

"I remember fall evenings on campus, we'd have bonfires.

Intramurals were a lot of fun, as were fraternity activities and formals. In R.O.T.C., we'd spend a lot of time having adventures at the Delaware Water Gap," Yancheck said. "When the Phillies won the World Series my freshman year (1980), all the students ran out onto the quad and celebrated."

Upon graduation, Yancheck went on active duty in the U.S. Army for three years, stationed at Fort Ord in Monterey, Calif. He served for more than 10 years in the active and reserve components of the Army as an Airborne Ranger Qualified Infantry Officer.

In his career, Yancheck has held a variety of sales, marketing, managerial and executive roles in various industries. In 1998, he joined the 3M Company. In his current enterprise-level role, he is responsible for the strategic and operational leadership of 3M's United States Government-focused business.

Yancheck has been married to Diane, a pre-school director, for 31 years. They have two children, Matthew, a Penn State graduate, who works as a marketer for a medical company, and Julia, a senior at the University of Tennessee.

Though the name Julia wasn't selected with ESU in mind, Yancheck points out the ESU connection. The famous "Julia" statue, purchased by alumni following World War II to honor the school's servicemen, stands at the entrance of the university, and is an enduring symbol of patriotism.

The joy Yancheck gets from giving back to the university is worth more than the gift itself.

"I would encourage everyone to reflect on what their experiences at ESU have given them, and look deep into their hearts to see if they can find a way to help others in the same way," he said.

“The scholarships have made me realize how important it is to give back and how much it can help someone.”

GILLIAN McEVOY
Class of 2021

Senior Gillian McEvoy is the recipient of the Colin Brett Orodener Memorial annual and endowed scholarships.

As a recipient of the Colin Brett Orodener Memorial annual and endowed scholarships, senior Gillian McEvoy has been given more opportunities and motivation to achieve her full potential.

Both Orodener scholarships are awarded to East Stroudsburg University students in the Hotel, Restaurant and Tourism Management major who have a documented learning disability.

“Growing up, my parents valued education and pushed me to be the best student I could be, but school was something that did not come easily to me. I had to work really hard in order to do well,” said McEvoy, who is from Cortland, N.Y. “Receiving the scholarships has pushed me to be a better student to maintain the GPA I need, and to work harder so I can achieve success in my future career. I also want to show the Orodener family that I value education and I am working hard to help carry on their legacy.”

Prior to receiving the scholarships, McEvoy was inspired by previous Orodener scholarship recipients. She saw that the support helped those students to achieve success. However, it wasn't until she received the scholarship herself that she realized the full impact of the gift.

“The scholarship gave me the opportunity to purchase my books and school supplies, and I was able to take an extra class because I had the financial support to do so,” McEvoy said. “I wouldn't have been able to take extra credits otherwise. That extra class gave me a new opportunity and broadened my horizons.”

During her time at ESU, McEvoy has been active in student life. She is a member of the Hotel Restaurant Management Club and a member of Eta Sigma Delta International Hospitality Management Honor Society. She played on the lacrosse team for three years.

McEvoy is the daughter of David and Laurie McEvoy. She grew up on a farm south of Syracuse and about 30 minutes from Cornell University. Her mother works at the Statler Hotel on Cornell University's campus, which is where McEvoy logged her 400 hours that her major requires as a prerequisite for an internship. After she graduates in December, McEvoy is interested in pursuing a career in human resources or airline hospitality.

“I have such a feeling of accomplishment from being able to carry on the Orodener legacy,” McEvoy said. “The scholarships have made me realize how important it is to give back and how much it can help someone. When I'm financially independent, I hope that I can one day help someone in the same way.”
